Letter of Recommendation

Under Mumbai University, I am working in the field of education since the year 2000, and have known Mr. Jay Sahasrabudhe in the capacity of being his professor in Electronics and Telecommunication Engineering Department. I have taught him subjects named Analog Communication, Data Compression and Encryption, Computer Communication and Telecom Networks, and therefore had enough opportunities to assess him during his academic years. His conduct has been noteworthy. He can be easily singled out due to his achievements and nature.

During the time in which I have interacted with Jay, I found him to be a sincere student with a high aptitude for grasping new concepts. He has a clear understanding of whatever has been taught to him and I am impressed by his dedication towards his work. He has a keen and inquisitive mind and as his professor, I have noted his eagerness to learn new things.

Jay is consistently improving in academic achievements. Overall, I would place Jay in the top 20% of the students with whom I have interacted. I commend visual inclinations to further his knowledge. He is a student of promise and I am confident that he will excel in his chosen field of study. He has decidedly rational, scientific temper and displays a sound understanding of the underlying concepts of Engineering Science. He keeps himself updated all the time.

I observed that Mr. Jay is a motivated individual. His command over English, spoken as well as written, is highly commendable. He has presented a seminar to his peers on technical topics like 'Embedded systems' and '4G vs. Wi-Fi'. His potential as an excellent speaker was brought to fore in these seminars.

I have observed Jay to have high interpersonal skills and excellent organizational capabilities. He possesses excellent leadership qualities and has the ability to work in a team and actively involve all members. He was appointed as the Marketing Manager for IEEE (Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers) which included tasks like organizing and managing technical and cultural festivals for our institute. He was also the chief organizer for our annual technical festival, Zephyr '16. He has competed and won various prizes in the fields of sports and modeling. He also has been an avid writer for the institute souvenir, published on a periodic basis. In recognition of his writing skills, he has also been appointed as the coordinator for college magazine.

Out and out, I strongly recommend Mr. Jay for admission to your prestigious institution and feel that his abilities are definitely deserving of any financial assistance possible. I am sure he will definitely produce the desired result.
